Torrance Represented in Parley On County Refuse, Smog Control

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors voted to invite the members of the original Refuse Disposal Committee on Elimination of Smoke Nuisance from Rubbish Dumps to meet in review of the incinerator problem now pending before the Board, and to coordinate county and city selection of incinerator sites so that there will be no duplication in choice of locations.

Seaside Ranchos Area Granted Change of Zone

The Torrance City Planning Commission has recommended to the City Council that they grant a petition of Ben Haggott, president of Seaside Ranchos to change the zone of Tract 13901, situated on the north side of Pacific Coast highway, at the west City boundary.

The change will be from an A-1 (light agricultural) to an R-1 (single family residential) zone, excepting lot 1, Block 8, which is desired as a C-1 (retail commercial), and Lot 23, Block 4, to be for park and recreational purposes.

Haggott plans a shopping center in the new residential area for the convenience of the residents of the Seaside Ranchos development.

CHILD PRODIGES

Contrary to popular notion, "gifted" children, those with an I.Q. of more than 135, are on the average, large for their age, well developed and excellent in many personality traits. According to the Encyclopaedia, such children have the greatest potentialities for distinguished achievement in life.

The suggestion was introduced by Chairman of the Board Raymond V. Darby in reporting on a meeting held in his office June 27, attended by engineers and consultants from the City and County of Los Angeles and the City of Santa Monica.

At the meeting of June 27, said Supervisor Darby, it had been the unanimous opinion of those present that the original committee members with the addition of County Manager Wayne Allen and Chief Mechanical Engineer Roscoe E. Shonard to meet again to study the matter of incinerators.

Those comprising the original committee are A. H. Adams, engineer, Regional Planning Commission of the County of Los Angeles, J. C. Albers, city engineer of Glendale, George E. Baker, city engineer of Long Beach, H. P. Cortelyou, engineer-director of Bureau of Maintenance and Sanitation, Los Angeles City, G. M. Jain, city engineer of Torrance and W. M. Jarrett, assistant city engineer of Alhambra.

The recommendation of the report made by the committee in July of 1946, called for an ultimate disposal of rubbish by burning in modern, nuisance-free incinerators which was estimated would cost $4,610,000.

The county has budgeted, according to Chairman Darby, $1,800,000 for construction of incinerators to solve the problem of rubbish disposal and elimination of the smog nuisance by construction of incinerators.

Sweeping County Ambulance Aid Started July 4

Ambulance aid for accident cases in outlying unincorporated county territory went into operation July 4.

Board of Supervisors recently gave final approval to the plan designed to speed medical attention to victims of accidents from traffic and other causes in regions not adequately served at present.

The new system will bring on call more than 100 ambulances manned by expert crews and backed by a network of hospitals over the county.

Police departments in county municipalities will be given complete information of the plans operation. Citizens are urged to communicate news of any accident they witness by calling 116 on the nearest telephone and asking for the sheriff's ambulance detail.

First recommended by the 1946 grand jury, county officials have been working over details for several months.

The ambulance department will be under direct command of Larry Carmack of the sheriff's office.

Fred Chaison Makes Trip To Former Home

Fred Chaison, 2427 W. 251st st., left last Thursday to pay his first visit in 26 years to Nova Scotia, Canada, his birth place. He plans to be gone about six weeks.

Mr. Chaison made the first part of his trip by plane to Boston where he will visit his two brothers and one sister. From there he will go by bus to Nova Scotia, Canada.
